WABASH OFFICIALS

RE IN CITY THURSDAY MORNING TO MEET CITY AUTHORITIES.

TO MAKE IMPROVEMENTS

By an Agreement Entered Into by the City and Company, Work to Commence at Once.

A party of Wabash officials, composed of T. J. Jones, general superintendent of this division; J. T. Sheehan, chief engineer, and W. H. Tacy and W. H. Eckart, came to Maryville Thursday morning in Mr. Jones' private car to meet with the city authorities in regard to a number of improvements that the Wabash has so far failed to make. The party was met by MayorRobey and Alderman F. C. Conrad.

An agreement was entered into by these officers and the city authorities as follows:

The railroad company is to open up Storm avenue.

One-half of the grading on Ninth street is to be done by the city, and the Wabash is to build a cement sidewalk on the north side of Ninth street across their right of way.

On Seventh street the Wabash is to build a cement sidewalk on the south side of the street across their right of way.

On North Dunn street, a sidewalk is to be built on the west side of the street in front of the Ramsay property.

All of the proposed work is to start at once, as the railroad company wants to finish it this fall.

The city has been after the Wabash to make these improvements for a number of months, and the news that they will be made soon will be well received. All of the improvements are made on account of the Normal.

The railroad officials left Maryville on the Wabash noon train and went to Conception Junction, where they met a party of Great Western officials and were in conference this afternoon.

COUNCIL TO MEET FRIDAY EVENING

No other business of importance is slated to come up.

HAND MANGLED WHILE DIGGING A WELL

William Chesser of Clyde suffered a bad injury to his left hand Wednesday evening about 5 o'clock, while engaged in digging a well at the Highland school house, five miles northeast of Maryville.

The machinery he was using in digging the well broke and caught his left hand, tearing the muscles badly, and the index finger was injured in such a way that the doctors fear it cannot be saved. His thumb was broken also. One of his limbs was injured, too.

Dr. K. C. Cummins and Dr. Will Wallis, Jr., attended to the injuries at the home of Mr. Chesney, where Mr. Chesser was taken, and is there at the present time.

DIGS THROUGH WALL WITH A HORSESHOE

Warsaw, Mo., Sept. 14.—Sheriff and deputies today are searching for Arthur Carpenter, who broke jail here last night by digging through an eighteen-inch brick wall with the handle of a teaspoon and a horseshoe. Carpenter was captured at Fayetteville, Ark., last week and brought here on a charge of assault with intent to kill. Carpenter has been in jail a number of times and has always escaped.

The Arkansas constable who brought him here took the precaution to lock the prisoner's hands and feet and throw away the keys. When he arrived here the chains were filed off.

More Water

City man and farmer now realize the full importance of the water question.

The year 1911 has demonstrated the need of water in sufficient quantities to make and mature crops.

How often during the past summer we heard "If it will only rain within a week corn will make 70 bushels."

If we could "make" the weather to suit our individual needs our dream of the ideal would be realized.

Tomorrow this space will contain some information concerning the "IDEAL." Watch for it.

DEATH OF MRS. SKIDMORE AT GUILFORD

The funeral of Mrs. Milly Skidmore, who died at her home, near Guilford, last Monday, was held Wednesday. Burial was at the Guilford cemetery. The services were in charge of the Rev. S. E. Hoover, pastor of the M. E. church, South, of which Mrs. Skidmore had long been a member.

Mrs. Skidmore was the widow of Daniel Skidmore, a prominent resident of Nodaway county, who died in 1885. Mrs. Skidmore, in company with her husband, removed to Missouri in 1860 and to Guilford in 1861, where she had lived continuously since that time.

Mrs. Skidmore is survived by one son, H. C. Skidmore of Guilford, with whom she had made her home.

Choir Meeting.

The Christian church choir will meet this evening at 7:30 for rehearsal. An invitation is extended to Normal students or others who desire to become members of the choir or assist in the singing to be present. The choir will begin soon the rehearsal of new music of heavier grade, and it is the desire of the musical director to add to the present strength of the choir, and have all the singers start with the first rehearsals.

COL. WM. F. CODY BIDS GOOD BYE

Col. Wm. F. Cody and Major Gordon W. Lillie, the well known "Buffalo Bill" and "Pawnee Bill," have united their forces for the purpose of giving the people of America an anthropolical exhibit of the globe. Both of their expositions have made a wonderful record, and now that they are combined in the same arena, an amusement enterprise of rare interest will be found in the present attraction.

Indian warriors from out west, Indian Malays from the far east, cowboys and girls, jugglers fro Hindostan, trained elephants which play on musical instruments, wild bucking bronchos, camel caravans, Persian fire worshipers, Asiatic acrobats, Cossacks, Japanese zouaves, great Texas horse Joe Bailey, Ray Thompson's band and Rhoda Royal's steed of thoroughbreds, the United States cavalry and artillery, Buffalo Bill shooting from horseback and Johnny Baker at the traps; all these and more will be seen.

Messrs. Cody and Lillie have found that they have struck the keynote in amusement enterprise. Their success is deserved from the fact of always adding novelties to an already world-wide endorsed program of realistic features.

There will be no street parade; every energy of men and horses being devoted to giving perfect performances.

Col. Cody has given none of these public processions for over ten years, their fatiguing effect on men, women and horses being such as to affect the snap, ginger and go necessary to a natural exhibition.

There will be two representations daily at 2 and 8 p. m., rain or shine.

The performances are given in the open while the spectators are comfortably seated under shed-canvases from sun or shower—arranged to secure fresh air—a seasonable summer entertainment. An event that will be a marking stone noting the closing of an historic era will be celebrated when on his coming visit Col. Cody bids us farewell.

HAS RECEIVED A CARLOAD OF PAPER

The Democrat-Forum is today in receipt of another car load of "print," commonly known as newspaper. The Democrat-Forum is the only newspaper in Nodaway county that finds it necessary to buy paper by the car load. This shipment of paper weighs more than eighteen tons and includes over 335,000 sheets of white paper. Each of these big sheets represents one copy of the weekly or two copies of the daily, and early next summer another car will be necessary. It takes lots of paper to supply The Democrat-Forum's big circulation.

HOT WAVE TO BE ENDED BY RAIN

Washington, Sept. 13.—Shivering temperatures in the northeastern part of the country and sweltering weather in the southwest and middle plains states, in some places almost the highest ever recorded during September, were the extremes to which nature treated the people today.

Overcoats were hauled from their storage places in the east tonight and shivering residents in some places put their heating apparatus at work. In the southwest and plains states today the palm leaf fan resumed its operations after a respite of several weeks. In Kansas the mercury mounted highest, passing the 100 mark in many places. At Concordia, Kas., it jumped to 102 degrees, or two degrees lower than the hottest September weather on record, while at Dodge City, Kas., it registered 100, or within one degree of the record there.

Frosts were reported in Northern Michigan, New York and New England. The lowest temperature was found at Northfield, Vt., where the thermometer registered 36 degrees. In Washington tonight the temperature is growing colder hour by hour, registering 51 at 10 p. m.

These unusually strong contrasts in temperatures from the Rockies to the Atlantic coast were from separate causes. The cold weather in the east followed a disturbance which came down from the Canadian Northwest over the northern lake region and St. Lawrence valley. It passed out to sea yesterday and in its wake followed the cold wave.

MARY ETHEL LAWRENCE SUES FOR DIVORCE

A suit for divorce was filed by Shinabargar, Blagg & Ellison Thursday morning in the circuit clerk's office for Mary Ethel Lawrence against J. S. Lawrence. The petition states that they were married in Maryville on June 5, 1909, and that they lived together until July 17, 1909, when the defendant abandoned her and absented himself. The suits asks for a divorce, and that her maiden name as Mary Ethel Dean be restored to her.

Seventy-Five Bushels Per Acre.

J. W. Holt, who lives just west of the city limits of Maryville, was in town today with some samples of corn which he says will run from 50 to 75 bushels per acre. He has five acres planted May 10, and he will have to be shown before believing any one has any better corn this year. The ears are large and well filled. One ear has about 1,100 grains and he had a freak ear that contained twenty-six rows with fifty grains to the row, making a total of 1,300 grains on the ear.

FOR WATER WORKS

HOPKINS WILL PUT ON CITY AIRS AND ISSUE BONDS.

FOR $10,000 FOR A PLANT

The Movement for the New Enterprise is Just Being Agitated—A Meeting to Be Held Soon.

A movement is being inaugurated to secure water works for Hopkins, says the Journal of that town in this week's issue.

The Journal goes on to say, in speaking of the movement:

The city tax of Hopkins is ridiculously low in comparison to the tax paid by the people of many other towns of this size. For instance, in many Kansas and Nebraska towns that are growing and prospering almost beyond measure, the city taxes amount to from 5 to 8 per cent and the people consider the money spent for improvements invested most profitably. The city tax of Hopkins is only one-half of 1 per cent of the assessed valuation, and we are abundantly able to double this amount.

A standpipe and pump (the tank holding thirty thousand gallons of water) together with two miles of mains can be put in here for $10,000. This could be paid for by voting bonds to run fifteen or twenty years without being felt in the least by the taxpayers. As we have already said, taxes are very low and by doubling the city tax, this improvement could be secured, and besides the convenience and protection gained the increased value of all property would be far more than the increased tax could possibly amount to.

During the last four years $2,000 has been expended for street crossings and other street improvements. Who has missed the money this tax called for and who will say it is not money well spent?

HAS ACCEPTED A POSITION AS SALESMAN

Will J. Montgomery has accepted a position as traveling salesman for N. K. Fairbank & Co. of Chicago, a soap house. His territory will be Oklahoma and Arkansas. THE WAR SCARE IN GERMANY.

The German people are seriously alarmed at the possibility of war. They evidently have little confidence in the assurances given out that an amicable adjustment of the Moroccan issue would be affected.

Panicky conditions in financial circles show that in quarters where there is likely to be some trustworthy information as to the intentions of the government, there is real fear that a conflict is imminent.

What effect this popular alarm will have upon the government remains to be seen. It should convince the kaiser and his advisers that the people do not regard the demands respecting Morocco as justifying recourse to war, with inevitable consequences more or less disastrous to the financial and commercial interests of the nation.

Germany has enjoyed a long era of peace and prosperity. The people want to continue in the course that has made the country rich and powerful. They are manifesting this desire in the only way available to them.

War between Germany and France would be a calamity of world-wide effect. Both nations are prepared for a long conflict, in which other European countries might become involved. Hostilities once begun no man could foresee the end or the consequences.

Universal interest awaits Germany's reply to France's proposals.—Chicago Journal.

Under the Chestnut Tree.

Under the spreading chestnut tree a stubborn auto stands,
And Smith, an angry man is he, with trouble on his hands.
He cusses softly to himself and crawls
beneath the car,
And wonders why it didn't bust before he got so far.

The carbureter seems to be the cause of all his woe;
He tightens half a dozen bolts, but still it doesn't go.
And then he tries the steering gear,
but finds no trouble there—
Till, wet with perspiration, then, he quits in sheer despair.

He squats beside the road to give his brain a chance to cool,
And ponders on his training at the correspondence school;
And then he starts the job once more,
until by chance 'tis seen
The cause of all his trouble is—he's out of gasoline.

LINCOLN BEACHEY,

The World's Most Noted Birdman, to Be at the Clarinda Fair September 20 and 21.

Read carefully the following extracts from noted papers where he has been flying within the last few weeks, and you will want to see him in the great exhibitions to be given at the Clarinda fair Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 20 and 21.

Beachey will make six flights—three each day, and if conditions are favorable will go after some world's records, such as he has been making at the larger cities where he has appeared.

Don't think wind or weather will stop him. Read below and you will find that Mr. Beachey is the one "daredevil" of them all.

Boston Herald, Aug. 29, 1911.—Breathless with wonder and fear, the spectators at the Harvard-Boston meet yesterday clutched each other feverishly is Lincoln Beachey shot into a wind blowing close to fifty miles an hour and reached an altitude of 3,000 feet, concluding this perilous feat by literally falling to within a few feet of the ground, and voloplaning, dipping and banking, till it seemed his Curtiss biplane would be torn apart. Rocking from side to side as though in a hammock, he finally came to land as jauntily as though he had been riding a perambulator about an empty ball room floor.

Boston Journal, Sept. 3, 1911.—"Daredevil" Lincoln Beachey was the hero of yesterday afternoon's meet at Atlantic. Flying into the teeth of a sixty-mile gale which swept the field, engaged in a battle with the elements, soaring through the turbulent expanse of the heavens, victorious when none of the other aviators on the field dared risk an encounter.

Chicago Daily News, Aug. 17, 1911.—In addition to capturing the hearts of every spectator on the stands yesterday, Beachey managed to annex prizes aggregating $3,000. With characteristic boldness he shot into the air early in the afternoon while the others were looking at the wind and stroking their chins.

Yesterday was the biggest day of the entire meet—the biggest in things accomplished, and spectators present. Lincoln Beachey was the star of the day—and for that matter of the entire meet.

Chicago Inter Ocean, Aug. 17, 1911.—While the judges were trying to decide whether the whole day's events would have to be postponed because of the high wind, Lincoln Beachey whirled his Curtiss biplane off his Hangar and flew over the starting mark, giving Major Reeder's men the signal that he was going up for altitude.

Chicago Tribune, Aug. 22, 1911.—Lincoln Beachey, the star of Chicago's meet, all during its nine days, closed the festival of flying yesterday as its hero.

Chicago Examiner, Aug. 17, 1911.—At a height of 2,800 feet Beachey's engine stopped while he was descending, and he completed his descent in a beautiful spiral glide. So steep was the angle at which he brought down his biplane that many thought he was falling, but he straightened out and alighted softly on the grass.

Boston Globe, Sept. 3, 1911.—Lincoln Beachey just simply cleaned up the Boston-Harvard aviation meet yesterday afternoon. It was practically a one-man show.

In Memory of Fred Montgomery.

At a special meeting of Bolckow chapter, No. 147, O. E. S., the following resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, Under the providence of God our beloved brother Fred Montgomery has been called from his earthly labors; and

Whereas, We stand dazed, staggered and almost afraid, as a strong man falls at our feet, stricken down in the early years of his prime, yet we must content ourselves by believing that some day we shall se, face to face—some day we shall understand; therefore, be it

Resolved, That it is with feelings of profound sorrow, which words are inadequate to express, that we are called to part with our beloved brother and friend.

Resolved, That by his death our chapter has lost one of its most zealous and faithful members, society a useful member, and his family a devoted brother.

Resolved, That to the memory of Brother Montgomery we owe a debt of gratitude and love, and while we miss the pleasant face, cheerful presence and words of instruction in our chapter, we will strive to emulate the good and charitable fruits of his life.

Resolved, That we extend our heartfelt sympathy to his grief stricken brothers, sisters and friends. May they lie passive in God's arms of chastening love, and realize that there is wisdom and goodness in all His appointments.

Resolved, That our charter be draped in mourning for a period of thirty days in memory of our lamented brother. That these resolutions be spread upon the records of our chapter, published in the newspapers of Bolckow, Savannah and Maryville, and a copy presented to the family of the deceased.

FRIES TO BURY DOG NEAR 1776 HEROES.

Boston Woman Has Grave Dug, but Police Interfere.

Because Mrs. Sarah Bowman Van Ness, a sister-in-law of the Rev. Ruthemas Van Ness of the Second Unitarian church, Boston, and a regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution, had a grave dug in the Lexington cemetery—where lie the bodies of many heroes of the Revolutionary war—for her pet Irish setter, the historic towns of Lexington and Concord raised an uproar.

The dog, which was seventeen years old, was the property of Mrs. Van Ness' late husband, Joseph Van Ness, who was greatly attached to the animal. After his master's death the dog went to the cemetery day after day, lying on the grave, and it was not for some months that he could be induced to stay away. Because of the strong attachment between dog and master Mrs. Van Ness thought it would be fitting to have the dog buried as near her husband as possible.

She sent word to the caretaker of the graveyard, who dug a full sized grave in the Van Ness lot. Herbert Wellington, who has charge of the Lexington cemetery, heard of Mrs. Van Ness' intentions and enlisted the Lexington police force to block them.

The date of the burial was set, and Mrs. Van Ness, accompanied by her lawyer and several friends, drove up to the cemetery. The dog's body was borne in a large wooden box covered with black crape. The funeral services were just about to start when the law, in the persons of Mr. Wellington and the police force, intervened and forbade the burial.

After a spirited argument in the cemetery the dog's body was taken back to Mrs. Van Ness' home in East Lexington and temporarily buried there.

"I feel that the dog should be beside my husband," said Mrs. Van Ness. "But I may be forced by public opinion to change my plans."

LOCOMOTIVES COMPARED.

Progress In Eighty Years Shown—The Powerful Pacific Type.

Comparison between the largest passenger locomotives built for the Pennsylvania railroad and the oldest locomotive in America shows the progress made since the first railroad train was put into service at Bordentown, N. J., on the Camden and Amboy railroad in 1831, eighty years ago. The oldest locomotive, John Bull, is still intact at the National museum in Washington.

The locomotive which the Pennsylvania railroad has adopted for heavy passenger service is of the Pacific type. The locomotive and tender when loaded with coal and water weigh about 430,000 pounds. The John Bull, loaded for operation, weighs 24,625 pounds, about one-seventeenth as much as the new engine, which has six driving wheels eighty inches in diameter. The driving wheels of the old engine are only fifty-four inches in diameter.

The boiler of the new type locomotive contains 359 tubes, each 20.9 feet long, making a total of nearly a mile and a half of two and a quarter inch tubes through which the flames and heat from the firebox pass on their way to the stack. The heating surface of the tubes is 4420.6 square feet, and, in addition, the firebox has a heating surface of 199.3 square feet. This space is heated to a high temperature to convert the water in the boiler to steam at a pressure of 205 pounds per square inch. The tubes in the John Bull are seven and a half feet long, and the tube heating surface is only 213 square feet.

WORLD'S BIGGEST WARSHIPS.

Two New Ones For American Navy to Hold the Record.

The two new battleships authorized by the last naval act probably will be of 28,500 tons displacement, or the biggest war vessels in the world. The largest ships so far designed for the American navy are the New York and Texas, with a displacement of 27,000 tons each, and it became known only recently that the navy department contemplated exceeding their size.

The new ships will have heavier armor than ever before put on a battleship, which accounts for their increased displacement. The armament of the new vessels will be the same as the New York and Texas, with a main battery of ten fourteen-inch guns.

With this approach to a 30,000 ton battleship the naval ordnance experts are considering the question of a sixteen inch gun. It will require a 35,000 ton battleship to withstand the terrific recoil from a main battery of ten sixteen-inch guns.

POEM FOR PEACE MONUMENT.

Howard V. Sutherland Writes For Panama Canal Entrance Ornament.

A Denver poet will furnish the inscription for the base of the peace monument which the government will erect at the east entrance to the Panama canal.

He is Howard V. Sutherland, author of "Idyls of Greece" and other poems.

For the statue of peace, carved by Mrs. Frances Barette, Mr. Sutherland has contributed this verse:

The mother universal, blessed peace,
Whose children are the races
East and west—the winds intone her praises,
And the seas that thunder at the portals
of the world
Bid us acclaim her, who would turn from war
To love and benediction.

CONDITIONS IN CHINA ALARMING

Flowery Kingdom is Rapidly Approaching Great Crisis.

LIKE FEUDAL WARS OF EUROPE

Students of Oriental Affairs Look for Present Uprising to Extend—Rioters Attack City of Cheng Tu and Are Repulsed by Troops.

Washington, Sept. 14.—In the opinion of students of Oriental affairs, China is rapidly approaching a great crisis in its history. The uprising in Sze Chuen province is expected to extend to other neighboring provinces, especially to the southward, where the Mongolian element has for many years been opposed to the reigning Manchu dynasty. Evidently prepared for trouble, the Chinese government has been quick to dispatch troops into the disaffected district and to deal with the situation with a strong hand. It is believed here that the government will be able to suppress the present disturbance though the unforeseen disastrous flooding of the Yange-tse valley is expected to drive thousands of the unfortunate natives whose means of support have been destroyed into the ranks of the revolutionists.

But it is believed that this Sze Chuen uprising is only the precursor of other outbreaks in different parts of the Flowery Kingdom, for the struggle now going on is really a gigantic test of the relative strength and power of the central, as opposed to the provincial government; in other words, the situation resembles the great feudal wars of Europe in the middle ages. Japan also had to pass through a similar ordeal before the power of the emperor was able to break the power of his mutinous barons and it is believed that the Chinese government will now be put to the same test.

RIOTERS ATTACK CHENG TU

Troops Line the Walls and Are Defending the City.

London, Sept. 14.—A news dispatch received here from Tsu Chau says that the prefect of police there has attempted to communicate with Cheng Tu by messengers, but that the latter were unable to get through the lines of rioters, who were attacking the city at four points. Troops, the dispatch adds, line the walls of Cheng Tu, defending the city. The rioters were repulsed.

WETS MAY WIN IN MAINE

Secretary of State's Reports Give Majority of 155.

Portland, Me., Sept. 14.—So close was the vote in Monday's special election on the question of repeal of constitutional prohibition that even today, when most of the first unofficial returns had been revised by mail reports from town clerks, the result is still in doubt. The secretary of state's reports showed an apparent majority of 155 for repeal.

An error discovered in the report given officially by the clerk of the town of Limestone, contributed largely to the uncertainty as to the outcome of the election. It was discovered that in reporting the vote in the town, the clerk returned to the press over his signature: For repeal, 12; against repeal, 175.

To the secretary of state he reported just the reverse: For repeal, 175; against, 12.

FRENCH REPLY TO GERMANY

Proposed That France Shall Have a Free Hand in Morocco.

Rambouillet, France, Sept. 14.—President Fallieres gave his formal sanction to the French reply to the latest note from Germany regarding Morocco. Foreign Minister de Selves, after submitting the document, hastened by motor car to Paris, and if the reply can be transcribed in time a courier will leave with it for Berlin today.

It is understood that, as anticipated, the latest French expression emphasizes the necessity of maintaining the commercial equality of all in Morocco and insists that France shall have a free hand politically in that country.

COBURN HEADS SUBSCRIPTION LIST

Starts Fund to Prosecute Parties Who Tarred Woman.

Topeka, Sept. 14.—A popular subscription fund for the use of the state attorney general in paying rewards and expenses of prosecuting the fifteen men and boys accused of participating in the tarring of Miss Mary Chamberlain at Shady Bend, Kan., was started by F. D. Coburn, secretary of the state board of agriculture.

In a letter to Attorney General Dawson, Mr. Coburn offered to start the fund with a contribution of $10. He also offered to contribute $10 as a start of a fund for prosecuting the members of the Hunnewell (Kan.) city council who "snubbed" their woman mayor. Mr. Coburn wrote:

"Kansas can have no valid claim on the respect of decent people anywhere unless she publicly and officially disavows toleration of lawlessness and such atrocities as the one committed at Shady Bend."

WOMAN MAYOR MAY WIN

Mandamus and Ouster Suits May Be Brought Against Councilmen.

Kansas City, Sept. 14.—Victory is almost in the grasp of Mrs. Ella Wilson, the woman mayor of Hunnewell, Kan., it would appear from statements made by C. W. Trickett of Kansas City, Kan., appointed by Governor Stubbs to assist the feminine executive in her conflict with the male council. Mr. Trickett said drastic action would be taken at once to compel the councilmen either to resign or to support the mayor. The action of the council members in refusing to consider Mrs. Wilson's commissions for appointive offices, said Mr. Trickett, makes further delay unnecessary.

"We will get busy in Hunnewell at once," said he, "and things will happen in that town."

Mr. Trickett added that it was possible both mandamus and ouster suits would be brought against the councilmen.

Labor Leaders Indicted.

Butler, Pa., Sept. 14.—Twenty labor leaders and former employees of the Pittsburgh, Butler, Harmony and Newcastle Electric road were indicted for conspiracy by the grand jury. It is charged the men caused the dynamiting of trolley cars during a strike against the railroad company.

READ MRS. HERRICK'S SWORN STATEMENT

STATE OF NEW YORK } ss.: ROCHESTER, N. Y.
COUNTY OF MONROE }

Nancy A. Herrick, being duly sworn, deposes and says: When I was a girl I had a head of heavy, long, dark brown hair which was the envy of my friends and which attracted the attention and remarks of strangers, but as I grew older it commenced to come out. When my hair was quite thin and gray, I was induced by the many good reports I had heard of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur to try a bottle; and you can imagine my satisfaction when I found my hair was fast coming back to its natural condition. I continued to use Sage and Sulphur until my hair was as heavy, dark and smooth as when I was a girl of sixteen. It is now four years since I began using Sage and Sulphur and my hair is in splendid condition.

WARD'S FIRST FLIGHT SHORT

Aviator Makes But Twenty Miles When He Loses His Way.

STARTS LONG OVERLAND TRIP

Youthful Birdman Will Compete With Fowler in Flight Across Continent for $50,000 Prize—Latter Will Repair Plane and Resume Flight East.

Paterson, N. J., Sept. 14.—James J. Ward, the young Chicago aviator, who started from Governors' island, New York, in the race to the Pacific coast for the William R. Hearst prize, landed here at 6:45 p. m., less than twenty miles from his starting point.

He had planned to make Middletown, N. Y., his first stop and to go thence to Buffalo, but a high wind and the fact that he lost his way twice over the network of railroad tracks in New Jersey made it impossible for him to complete even half of the projected first stage. He landed easily here and is in a good position for a start today.

The twenty miles separating this place from Governor's island represent probably one-third of the distance actually traveled by Ward. Losing his way as soon as he reached the Jersey shore, he followed the Lehigh Valley railroad tracks to the southwest Realizing that he had lost his bearings and having no other way to set himself right, he descended at Ashford, eighteen miles from Governor's island.

He left there at 2 o'clock, but finding himself badly buffeted by the wind, he descended in the outskirts of Newark. He resumed his flight and landed just inside Paterson's southerly city limits fifty-five minutes later.

FOWLER TO RESUME JOURNEY

Will Start East as Soon as Repairs to Airship Are Made.

Alta, Cal., Sept. 14.—Undismayed by the wreck of his machine and his slight injuries, Aviator Fowler already is preparing to resume his air journey across the continent. All necessary parts for the repair of the biplane are at Ogden and as soon as the mechanicians arrive from Reno the airship will be taken to Colfax, where repairs will be made. Fowler will start the instant the craft is put in order.

Swarms of souvenir hunters have swooped down upon the ill-fated biplane, and before the arrival of Constable Wagoner of Alta, who made one arrest, almost dismantled the wreck. One man attempted to make off with Fowler's sweater and two shirts.

Fowler said the immediate cause of the accident was the failure of the vertical rudder to answer to the control. He said he had discovered a new danger to aviators in the fact that a strong side wind, such as he encountered shortly before the accident, strained the vertical rudder to such a point that it refused to work.

Fowler said conditions in the air above the Sierras were not nearly so bad as he had been given to expect. He was not distressed by the cold and before the accident to the rudder experienced little trouble from the winds.

HAUGH PROPOSES BY WIRELESS

Rich Indianapolis Manufacturer Wins French Bride.

VISITS THE FAMILY IN FRANCE

Lacks Sufficient Courage to Make Proposal and Starts Home—In Midocean Flashes Back "Will You Marry Me?" and Answer Comes, "I Will."

New York, Sept. 14.—"Won by wireless' is the story the ship news reporters sent in after interviewing James Guy Haugh, a wealthy manufacturer of Indianapolis, on the arrival of the French line steamer La Bretagne Mr. Haugh believes he is the first man to win a bride with a wireless proposal. He told the story when he met the steamer that brought from France his future wife, Miss Marguerite Castaign.

Mr. Haugh and his fiancee, who is a daughter of Colonel Jean Castaign of the French army, met on shipboard last June and he visited her family in France soon after. On the way home he mustered courage to test his fate and by the ship's wireless operator sent back the following message:

"I love you. Will you marry me?"

When his ship reached New York an anxious suitor found awaiting him this cablegram:

"I certainly will."

Mr. Haugh asked his fiancee to marry him in this country. The ceremony occurred here.

CONFESSES MURDER OF GIRL

Neighbor of Lembergers Gets Life Term in Penitentiary.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 14.—John J. Johnson, otherwise known as "Dogskin" Johnson, confessed to the abduction and murder of Annie Lemberger, seven years old, whose body was found in Lake Monona last Saturday. He was immediately sentenced by Judge Anthony Donovan to life imprisonment.

A few minutes after his confession and sentence Johnson was taken in an automobile by Sheriff Brown and a deputy through side streets and across the country at a rapid clip to the state prison at Waupun.

The greatest secrecy was maintained because of fears that Johnson might be lynched.

In the presence of Chief of Police Shaughnessy, District Attorney Nelson and Turnkey Foye, Johnson said that the deed was the result of a sudden impulse. He had watched through the bedroom window the little girl and her sister undress at bedtime on different occasions. On the fateful night about 10 o'clock, shortly after the children had fallen asleep, he raised the sash and snatched little Annie from the bed, dragged her through the window and knocked her on the head with his fist, rendering her unconscious, so there would be no outcry. He then took her to the railroad bridge and, after beating her on the head until life was extinct, threw the body in the lake.

WORDS OF CHEER FOR TAFT

New England Business Men Assure President of Support.

Beverly, Mass., Sept. 14.—Godspeed and the assurance of the support of business men of New England were the messages of cheer carried to President Taft by Herbert N. Davison of Worcester, Mass., president of the New England Association of Commercial Executives, and eighty members of that association, who motored to Parramatta to say goodbye to the chief executive before he starts west.

Mr. Davison, applauded frequently by his associates, approved the president's course on reciprocity, his policy of conservation and his determination that the tariff shall be revised only when a non-partisan body of men shall have reported that reductions are warranted.

After Mr. Davison concluded the president shook hands with the delegates and made a short speech, saying:

"I am very much touched by your coming here to bid me Godspeed on this trip which I am to take. I am going to do the best I can on this trip to talk to the people on the issues of the day; not alone the political issues, for there are a great many issues that it is well for the people to consider, that do not attract politicians at all. They are the issues that do not figure in the headlines and yet contribute much to the welfare of the people and it is well for the people to understand them."

MAKE DISCRIMINATORY RULES

Western Millers File Charges Against Santa Fe Road.

Washington, Sept. 14.—Unjust and discriminatory rules and practices respecting the trans-shipment of grain and grain products by the Santa Fe and other western roads were alleged in a complaint filed with the interstate commerce commission. The complaint was made by the Southwestern Millers' league, an organization of grain millers of Kansas, Nebraska, Missouri and Oklahoma. The commission was requested to prescribe trans-shipment rules regarding trans-shipments, as would be just alike to carriers and shippers.

Say, Have You Ever

Bought any coal from Frank G. Shoemaker and had it delivered with the big white wagon? Those white wagons don't make a bad appearance on the streets of the city do they? And the horses look like they had enough to eat too. So do the drivers. The scales and yards are kept up in the same way, and that system of doing business makes it a legitimate mercantile business, like any other business of the city, and worthy of your patronage if prices and coals are right, and they are—because I am behind every pound of coal sold. If it is not right I will see that all is satisfactory or money refunded. Let me figure with you for your winter coal.

Yours truly,

F. G. SHOEMAKER, Sr.
